St Albans Woodland Burial Trust

Regulations and charges governing St Albans Woodland Burial Trust

To ensure the serenity and dignity of burials in the consecrated woodland of the St Alban's Woodland Burial Trust, the following guidelines apply to all burials.

1. The planting of trees and other plants in the burial ground is not permitted and is strictly controlled by the Trust.
2. No gardening or cultivation whatsoever is permitted. This includes such things as the scattering of bark or chippings, and the introduction of any fencing or kerbs.
3. No wildlife shall be introduced into the woodland.
4. Fresh flowers may be placed in or on the graves, but please remove cellophane, ribbon or wrappings. The Trustees reserve the right to remove flowers placed on graves as part of routine care and maintenance. Artificial flowers are not permitted and no vases or containers should be left.
5. It is requested that coffins and caskets be made of natural biodegradable material such as wood and preferably from renewable sources. The Trust must be advised prior to burial if for any reason the coffin does not meet these criteria.
6. It is requested that bodies should not be embalmed. The Trust should be advised prior to burial if this has taken place.
7. Graves may be marked by a temporary oak cross or an oak memorial supplied by the Trust. There will be no long term permanent markers such as gravestones or headstones. Only one memorial per person is permitted. The Trust does not accept responsibility for loss or damage to memorials.
8. The graveside service must be dignified and follow a recognised form of service. The Administrator of the Trust must be advised beforehand and approve any ceremony and the person conducting it, on behalf of the Trustees.
9. No exhumations will be permitted under any circumstances except by lawful authority.
10. The Trustees maintain the right to vary the Rules and Regulations at any time.
11. Refunds are not made.
