

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED

- Is woodland burial affordable? Yes. Ignoring the fact that we are a not for profit charity, woodland burials usually cost less and make a permanent contribution to the environment, making a lasting difference for generations to come.
- Can I have a memorial on the grave? Yes, but only the wooden inscribed oak crosses or memorial posts that are authorised and supplied by the Trust. The Trust also supplies bamboo vases. No other markings or items may be left on graves and will be removed by the Trust to protect the wildlife and native woodland.
- Can anybody be buried? Yes. We welcome people of all faiths and no faith at all. We just ask that the Trust agrees any form of ceremony beforehand.
- Can I have a proper coffin? Yes. The Trust does ask that certain practices are observed in keeping with woodland restoration and out of respect for the environment such as trying to make sure that coffins and caskets are made from real wood or other natural products which are biodegradable.

WHY CHOOSE WOODLAND BURIAL ?

People who choose woodland burial care about nature and the environment. The creation of natural woodland, where birds, animals and all nature can thrive, is a caring alternative to traditional cemeteries which leave large areas of tombstones.

Cremation contributes to global warming by producing greenhouse gases, it is also harmful to the environment with the release of dioxins which create long term pollution. By choosing woodland burial we give something back to our communities and contribute towards the conservation of our environment.

Our woodland is run by a non-profit-making charity and is consecrated to come within the jurisdiction of the St Albans Diocese of the Church of England.

People choose consecrated woodland burial because it provides the greatest protection available under English Law. Additional assurance comes from the knowledge that everything is also protected by the oversight of the church. It's the closest you can get to a guarantee that you will rest in peace.
